CAROLINA PANTHERS

NEW ENGLAND PATRIOTS (7-2) AT CAROLINA PANTHERS (6-3)

PANTHERS HOST MONDAY NIGHT FOOTBALL GAME VS. NEW ENGLAND

For the second straight week, Carolina faces one of the NFL's elite teams coming off a bye when the Panthers host the New England Patriots on Monday Night Football at Bank of America Stadium. Last week worked in Carolina's favor when they defeated San Francisco 10-9, thanks to a stout defense and timely offense and special teams, for a fifth straight win.

However, the upcoming challenge is even greater as the Panthers face a New England team that is coming off of a 55-point effort in their most recent victory over Pittsburgh.

"They have a one of the best quarterbacks in the history of the game, a great coach, and now they are getting some players back. It is a tremendous challenge for our football team," says head coach Ron Rivera.

While the Patriots have created their current legacy with five Super Bowl appearances and three titles, the Panthers are in a youthful stage that features a second-year linebacker and a third-year quarterback playing the pivotal roles on each side of the ball.

Keying a defense that is ranked second in the League in yards and points allowed is linebacker Luke Kuechly, last year's NFL Defensive Rookie of the Year. Kuechly was outstanding last week when he led the Panthers defensive unit in tackles with 13 while adding a sack as Carolina held a San Francisco offense that had scored over 31 points five games in a row to three field goals.

Adding strong support was fellow linebacker Thomas Davis, who added four tackles and caused a crucial fumble. Kuechly and Davis are one-two in tackles for the Panthers with 90 and 83, respectively and form the heart of a defense that also features the pass rushing combination of Charles Johnson and Greg Hardy and a secondary whose sum has been greater than the individual parts after injuries took away its most experienced player.

Johnson had 1.5 of Carolina's six sacks against San Francisco to raise his season total to 8.5. Hardy has five sacks for the season in their bid to become the first Panthers duo to ever record back-to-back double digit sack seasons. The Panthers also benefitted by pressure from Dwan Edwards (two sacks), safety Mike Mitchell (1/2 sack), and rookie linebacker A.J. Klein (one sack).

Klein was one of three rookies to start at San Francisco as regular starter Chase Blackburn was slowed with a foot injury and responded with six tackles as well as his sack. Joining him in the starting lineup were tackle Star Lotulelei and cornerback Melvin White while first-year tackle Kawann Short and safety Robert Lester also saw extensive playing time.

Lotulelei and Short have been primary reasons in the Panthers improvement in the rush defense this season as Carolina ranks second against the run.

"It has been a good combination of veteran leadership and some young guys coming in and playing well," says Rivera.

There is more experience on offense, but the key component is quarterback Cam Newton, who has thrown 13 touchdowns and rushed for four more. In last week's defensive contest at San Francisco, Newton completed 16 of 32 passes for 169 yards with an interception. It was only his third interception in Carolina's five-game winning streak compared to seven touchdowns.

Veterans Steve Smith at wide receiver and Greg Olsen at tight end have been his favorite targets and Smith again led the Panthers with catches last week with six for 63 yards. Olsen's 35 catches rank behind only Smith's 42.

However, the difference makers against the 49ers were receiver/return specialist Ted Ginn, Jr., and running back DeAngelo Williams. In a game where yards were at a premium, Ginn returned three punts for 65 yards and two kickoffs for 42 yards plus making a drive-sustaining third down reception while Williams scored the game's only touchdown with a 27-yard run.

The Panthers continue to play behind a revamped offensive line that is now on its sixth's starting guard as converted defensive lineman Nate Chandler made his first NFL start at right guard last week. In spite of the changes, Carolina still ranks 10th in rushing in the League.

In the end, it was kicker Graham Gano who made the difference at San Francisco with a 53-yard field goal, his 13th field goal conversion against only one miss.

MAINTAINING CONTROL

The Panthers offense has controlled the ball this season, ranking first in the NFL in time of possession, second in drives of 5-plus minutes and tied for seventh in 10-play drives.

The Panthers are averaging 33:48 time of possession per game.

Ron RIVERA

NFL: 17th season
Panthers: 3rd season
Regular Season: 19-22 (.463)
Postseason: 0-0 (.000)

Ron Rivera became the fourth coach in Carolina Panthers history on January 11, 2011.

In his first season at the helm, the Panthers won four more games than in 2010 on the strength of a prolific offense which improved from last in the NFL in 2010 to seventh in 2011. In 2012, his second season, the Panthers increased their win total to seven games while moving from 28th to 10th in overall defense.

Before joining the Panthers, Rivera worked with the San Diego Chargers from 2007-2010, coaching inside linebackers before taking over as defensive coordinator midway through the 2008 season. In 2010, San Diego led the NFL with an average of 271.6 total yards allowed per game and gave up a league-low 177.8 passing yards per game.

From 2004-06, Rivera oversaw the Chicago Bears defense, guiding the unit to two top-five finishes in the league. In 2006, the Bears defense led the NFL with 44 takeaways and finished fifth in total defense and third in scoring defense, helping propel Chicago to an appearance in Super Bowl XLI. In 2005, Rivera's defensive unit ranked second in the NFL in total defense and first in scoring defense.

Prior to serving as defensive coordinator with the Bears, Rivera was linebackers coach for the Eagles (1999-2003) and defensive quality control coach for the Bears (1997-98).

He is just the third Latino head coach in NFL history, joining Tom Flores with the Oakland Raiders (1979-1987) and Seattle Seahawks (1992-94) and Tom Fears with the New Orleans Saints (1967-1970).

A second-round draft choice in 1984 by Chicago, Rivera played nine seasons with the Bears. Primarily an outside linebacker, he was a member of the Super Bowl XX championship team in 1985.

An All-American at the University of California, Rivera finished his career as the school's all-time leader in sacks with 22 and tackles with 336.

Born January 7, 1962 in Fort Ord, Calif. He and his wife, Stephanie, have two children – Christopher and Courtney.

Bill BELICHICK

NFL: 39th season
Patriots: 14th season
Regular Season: 194-103 (.653)
Postseason: 18-8 (.692)

Bill Belichick is in his 39th season as an NFL coach and is the only head coach in NFL history to win three Super Bowl titles in a four-year span. Belichick is in his 14th season as New England's head coach. Through 13 seasons, Belichick has delivered three Super Bowl championships, five conference titles, 10 division crowns and 17 playoff victories.

Belichick directed the Patriots to victories in Super Bowls XXXVI (2001), XXXVIII (2003) and XXXIX (2004), and in 2007 he became the first head coach to guide his team to a 16-0 regular season. Only one coach (Pittsburgh's Chuck Noll, 4) has won more Super Bowls than Belichick, and his three Super Bowl titles tie Washington's Joe Gibbs and San Francisco's Bill Walsh for second place on the NFL's all-time list. He has won more regular-season games (126) and more games overall (140) during a 10-year stretch (2003-2012) than any other head coach in NFL history over any decade.

Belichick launched his coaching career in 1975 with the Baltimore Colts and continued as an assistant coach with Detroit (1976-77), Denver (1978) and the New York Giants (1979-90). Belichick was named head coach of the Cleveland Browns in 1991, becoming the youngest head coach in the NFL at age 38. By 1994, Belichick's Browns advanced to the second round of the playoffs. In 1996, Belichick joined New England and was a key contributor to the Patriots first division title in 10 years en route to an appearance in Super Bowl XXXI. He then spent three seasons with the New York Jets from 1997 to 1999.

Background: Belichick was a center/tight end at Wesleyan 1971-74. He was born April 16, 1952 in Nashville, Tenn.

GAME SUMMARY

New England Patriots 20; Carolina Panthers 10
December 13, 2009 - Gillette Stadium, Foxborough, MA

The Carolina Panthers couldn't muster enough consistent offense, made mistakes at critical junctures and couldn't prevent a 96-yard, third-quarter Patriots drive that gave them the lead for good in route to a 20-10 victory. Carolina jumped out to an early lead in the first quarter turning a Chris Gamble interception of Patriots quarterback Tom Brady into a 41-yard touchdown strike from quarterback Matt Moore to wide receiver Steve Smith. The lead wouldn't last long, a damaging pass-interference call against linebacker James Anderson, led to a three-yard scoring run from Patriots running back Kevin Faulk. The third quarter began with the Panthers' third takeaway of the game, coming when Charles Godfrey jarred loose the football from Morris, allowing linebacker Dan Connor to recover. Three plays later, the Panthers committed the illegal shift that nullified the 15-yard pass to Smith. A subsequent punt was downed at the New England 4 after Dante Wesley saved it from going into the end zone, but the Patriots replied with a 13-play, 96-yard march that only saw them forced into two third downs. Both were converted, via passes of 13 and five yards to Wes Welker and Watson, respectively. Watson had the score with his third-and-goal reception to give the Patriots the lead for good. A 47-yard Stephen Gostkowski field goal with 3:56 remaining sealed the victory.

A LONG TENURE FOR SMITH & GROSS

Wide receiver Steve Smith and tackle Jordan Gross are the longest-tenured active Panthers and the duo holds places among the Panthers record holders for service.

In his 13th NFL season, Smith, has played in 176 career games, second-most in Panthers history. Smith moved into second last season vs. Dallas (10/21/12) when he played in his 157th career game, passing Muhsin Muhammad (155 from 1996-2004, 2008-09). Kicker John Kasay holds the team's all-time record for games played with 221 from 1995-2010. Gross stands third on the team's all-time games played list with 160.

In his 11th NFL season, Gross holds the team record for most starts in a career with 160. Gross established the mark last season at Chicago (10/28/12) when he started the 142nd game of his career overtaking the old record of 141 career starts held by Muhammad and Mike Minter (1997-2006). Smith also surpassed the old record and now ranks second in career starts behind Gross with 155.

PANTHERS CAREER LEADERS, GAMES PLAYED

Player	Games
John Kasay, 1995-2010	221
Steve Smith, 2001-	176
Jordan Gross, 2003-	160
Muhsin Muhammad, 1996-2004, 2008-09	155

PANTHERS CAREER LEADERS, GAMES STARTED

Player	Starts
Jordan Gross, 2003-	160
Steve Smith, 2001-	155
Muhsin Muhammad, 1996-2004, 2008-09	141
Mike Minter, 1997-2006	141

Tackle Jordan Gross set the team record for most starts in a career in 2012. His 160 career starts better the old record of 141 held by Muhsin Muhammad and Mike Minter.

WHAT TO LOOK FOR...

- These players are nearing the 100 career games played milestone: Colin Cole (93 games), Thomas Davis (95) and Ted Ginn, Jr. (97). Dwan Edwards (100) played in his 100th career game in Week Nine vs. Atlanta (11/3/13) Greg Olsen (103) played in his 100th career game in Week Seven vs. St. Louis (10/20/13). DeAngelo Williams (105) played in his 100th game in Week Five at Arizona (10/6/13) and Travelle Wharton (108) reached the 100-game milestone in Week One vs. Seattle (9/8/13).

- Tight end Greg Olsen will look to extend his streak of consecutive games played (103), dating to his rookie year in 2007. The 103 consecutive games played are third-most among active tight ends (Jason Witten – 165; Tony Gonzalez – 111).

- Tackle Jordan Gross will attempt to add to his team record 160 career starts.

- With five more sacks this season, defensive end Greg Hardy (5.0) can become the fifth player in team history with double-digit sacks in multiple seasons.

- WIth a half-sack, defensive end Charles Johnson (8.5) can become the first player in franchise history to record at least nine sacks in four consecutive years. With 1.5 sacks, Johnson can become the third player in team history with double-digit sacks in three or more seasons.

- With one more interception return for a touchdown, cornerback Captain Munnerlyn can break a tie with Mike Minter (4) for the most career interception returns for touchdowns.

- The Panthers have two defensive scores this season. With one more defensive score, the Panthers will tie the franchise record for most defensive scores in a season with three, previously accomplished in 1995, 1996, 2003, 2004 and 2005.

- Wide receiver Steve Smith will look to extend his streak of 100 consecutive games with a reception, which began in 2006. Smith needs 98 more yards to reach the 12,000 for his career.

- With 68 more pass attempts quarterback Cam Newton (1,273) will pass Kerry Collins (1,340 from 1995-98) for the third-most pass attempts in team history. In Week Seven vs. St. Louis, Newton (744) passed Collins (694) for third-most completions in team history. With one more 300-yard passing game Newton (7) will tie Steve Beuerlein, (8 from 1996-2000) for second-most in team history. With three touchdown passes in Week Six at Minnesota (10/13/13), Newton (53) passed Collins (47) for the third-most touchdown passes in team history.

Cornerback Drayton Florence's interception return for a touchdown in Week Nine vs. Atlanta (11/3/13) was Carolina's second defensive score of the year. The team needs one more to tie the team record.

A FAMILIAR FACE

Ricky Proehl

Ricky Proehl spent 17 seasons as an NFL player, including three with the Carolina Panthers from 2003-05. In 2013, Proehl is in his third season as a member of the coaching staff, serving as wide receivers coach after being promoted from assistant wide receivers coach.

In three seasons with the Panthers, Proehl tallied 86 catches for 1,327 yards and eight touchdowns and was a member of two playoff teams. He is responsible for one of the most well-known plays in franchise history when in the 2003 season opener vs. Jacksonville, his first game with Carolina, Proehl caught a 12-yard touchdown on fourth down with 16 seconds left to cap a come-from-behind win and propel the Panthers on their Super Bowl run.

In his career, Proehl played in 244 games with 110 starts for Phoenix/Arizona, St. Louis, Seattle, Chicago, Carolina and Indianapolis. Proehl was a member of four Super Bowl teams, including championship teams with the Rams and Colts. He finished his career with 669 catches for 8,878 yards and 54 touchdowns.

WILKS IS BACK HOME

Steven Wilks

When Steve Wilks was hired as secondary/pass defense coordinator prior to the 2012 season, it was a homecoming for the Charlotte native.

In the 1980s Wilks starred at quarterback for West Charlotte and played collegiately at Appalachian State before spending one season with the Charlotte Rage of the Arena Football League in 1993. He began his coaching career at Johnson C. Smith University in 1995.

Following 11 years coaching on the college level, Wilks entered the NFL coaching ranks in 2006 when he joined Panthers head coach Ron Rivera in Chicago. With Rivera serving as defensive coordinator and Wilks leading the Bears secondary, Chicago won the NFC Championship and advanced to Super Bowl XLI. The two reunited in 2010 in San Diego, helping the Chargers lead the NFL in total defense and pass defense.

Wilks (9) played quarterback at West Charlotte.

Last season, in his inaugural campaign with the Panthers, Wilks helped the team rise to 13th in the NFL in pass defense one year after finishing 24th. Despite dealing with injuries throughout the season Wilks' secondary tied a team record with three interception returns for touchdowns and Carolina finished the season ranked 10th in the NFL in total defense, its highest ranking since 2009.

FAMILY TIES

The Panthers coaching staff includes two members – Mike Shula and Sam Mills III – whose fathers are prominent football figures.

Mike Shula

Shula, the Panthers offensive coordinator, is the son of Don Shula, the NFL leader in career coaching victories with 347. Don Shula led the Miami Dolphins to two Super Bowl victories, including a perfect 17-0 season in 1972. "He's an unbelievable sounding board," Mike said of his father, now 83. "Whenever I've had to ask tough questions, I've always gone to him first because he's not going to give me the answer that I want to hear – he's going to give me the answer that I need to hear."

Sam Mills, III

The Panthers assistant defensive line coach, Mills, is the son of former Panthers linebacker and linebackers coach Sam Mills, Jr., who lost an inspiring battle with cancer seven years ago. A starting linebacker on the Panthers inaugural team in 1995, Sam Mills, Jr., propelled the Panthers to their first victory with an interception return for a touchdown against the New York Jets (10/15/95) and he is the only player in the team's Hall of Honor. He was a member of the team's coaching staff from 1998-2004. "It's an honor, especially around here with how he was able to touch people's lives," Mills III, said. "I hope that I can live up to it."

RICHARD RODGERS AND "THE PLAY"

Richard Rodgers

Richard Rodgers is the Panthers special teams coordinator. More than thirty years ago, Rodgers was part of one of the most famous plays in college football history – "The Play"

The five-lateral kickoff return for a touchdown allowed Rodgers' California Golden Bears to defeat the John Elway-led Stanford Cardinal on the final play of the game between the two rivals in 1982. He called "The Play" in the huddle and was the second and fourth player to handle the ball on the play.

In addition to featuring five laterals, "The Play" also included an appearance by members of the Stanford band, who thinking the play had been blown dead, entered the field of play midway through the return. Cal radio announcer Joe Starkey called the return "the most amazing, sensational, dramatic, heart-rending... exciting, thrilling finish in the history of college football."

In his 24 years of coaching, "The Play" has served Rodgers well.

"Since then I've been able to call on The Play as a tool of learning for players that I coach – never give up, never quit, you never know when you're going to make history," said Rodgers. "I certainly didn't know that Saturday morning 'The Play' was going to happen. That's why you keep playing."

PANTHERS IN PRIME TIME

When the Panthers take on the New England Patriots on Monday Night Football, the Panthers will host the team's first Monday Night Football game since 2008. The Panthers hold a 6-4 record on Monday Night Football and a 12-16 record overall in primetime games (games starting after 7 p.m. eastern).

Prior to the Panthers 10-9 victory at San Francisco (11/10/13), the team had produced four consecutive games with at least 30 points, the longest streak in team history. Carolina and Denver are the only two teams to win four straight games by 15-plus points this season.

Greg Olsen scored on a 14-yard catch in Week Nine vs. Atlanta (11/3/13). The Panthers scored 30 or more points in four straight games, the longest streak in team history.

AGGRESSIVE ON FOURTH AND SHORT

The Panthers offense has been agressive on fourth-and-short in recent weeks. Beginning in Week Three vs. the New York Giants (9/22/13), the Panthers offense has faced fourth-and-one six times and has gone for it all six times, converting five of the opportunities.

The Panthers have scored touchdowns on three of those conversions:

Week Three vs. New York Giants (9/22/13): Mike Tolbert scores a 2-yard rushing touchdown to give the Panthers a 7-0 lead in the first quarter.

Week Six at Minnesota (10/13/13): Cam Newton throws a 2-yard touchdown pass to Steve Smith for a 7-0 lead on the Panthers first drive of the game.

Week Nine vs. Atlanta (11/3/13): With 4:14 left in the second quarter, the Panthers run a play-action pass from the Falcons 14-yard line and Newton finds tight end Greg Olsen who was left uncovered. The Panthers take a 14-3 lead.

STEWART RETURNS TO THE FIELD

In Week Nine vs. Atlanta (11/3/13), running back Jonathan Stewart saw his first game action since December 2012. Stewart missed the final five weeks of 2012 with an ankle injury and began 2013 on the physically unable to perform list after offseason ankle surgery.

Stewart made the most of his opportunities in his debut, as he rushed nine times for 43 yards and added three receptions for 22 yards. In his second game, in Week Ten at San Francisco (11/10/13), Stewart gained 41 yards on 13 carries.

Stewart is the second-leading rusher in team history with 3,920 yards on 840 carries. He has rushed for 27 touchdowns and has nine career 100-yard rushing games. In 2011, he set the single-season franchise record for catches (47) and receiving yards (413) by a running back.

A first-round draft choice (13th overall) of the Panthers in 2008, Stewart has played in 72 career games with 19 starts.

In the season finale at New Orleans (12/30/12), Tolbert scored a career-high three rushing touchdowns, all on 1-yard runs, as the Panthers defeated the Saints, 44-38.

Mike Tolbert celebrates his rushing touchdown vs. Atlanta (11/3/13), his fifth touchdown since Week Six.

WILLIAMS GETS TOP BILLING

Running back DeAngelo Williams' production is evident in the Panthers record books.

Williams, a first-round draft choice (27th overall) out of Memphis in 2006, is the Panthers all-time leader with 6,349 rushing yards, 1,304 rushing attempts, 45 rushing touchdowns, 4.87-yard average rushing gain (minimum 500 carries) and 18 games with 100 or more rushing yards. Williams added another record to his resume when he rushed for 210 yards, the top single-game mark in franchise history, at New Orleans (12/30/12).

Williams earned a Pro Bowl selection in 2009 after rushing for 1,117 yards and becoming the first player in team history to record back-to-back 1,000-yard rushing seasons, gaining a team-record 1,515 yards in 2008.

BIG GAINS FOR LaFELL

Wide receiver Brandon LaFell is tied for the team lead with three receiving touchdowns this season. In Week Six at Minnesota (10/13/13), LaFell scored a 79-yard touchdown, the second-longest reception of his career behind a team-record 91-yard touchdown catch vs. Tampa Bay (12/24/11).

LaFell has 11 career touchdowns and is averaging 29.73 yards per touchdown.

LaFell finished the Minnesota game with four catches for 107 yards, the second 100-yard receiving game of his career. LaFell's first 100-yard game came vs. Tampa Bay (12/24/11).

In Week Three vs. the New York Giants (9/22/13), LaFell tallied the first multi-touchdown game of his career. LaFell hauled in touchdown passes of 16 and 20 yards as he finished with three catches for 53 yards.

LaFell, a third-round draft choice from LSU in 2010, tied for second on the team in 2012 with four touchdown catches and his 44 receptions and 677 yards ranked third.

For his career, LaFell has a 14.48-yards per catch average (149 receptions for 2,158 yards), the second-best mark in Panthers history among players with at least 100 catches.

SMITH STREAKING

With four receptions in Week Nine vs. Atlanta (11/3/13), Steve Smith extended his team-record consecutive games with a reception streak to 100. The streak began in the 2006 season finale at New Orleans (12/31/06). Wesley Walls holds the second-longest streak in team history with a reception in 70 consecutive games from 1996-2001.

Smith previously notched a reception in 52 consecutive games, the third-longest streak in team history, from 2002-06.

SMITH MOVING UP NFL'S ALL-TIME RECEIVING YARDS CHART

In 2012, wide receiver Steve Smith became the 27th player in NFL history to reach the 11,000 career receiving yards mark and now has 11,902 yards for his career.

Of the 28 players to reach the 11,000-yard milestone, 17 were selected in the first or second round of the NFL Draft. Smith was selected in the third round (74th overall) of the 2001 NFL Draft.

With 98 more yards, Smith will reach the 12,000-yard milestone.

In Week Seven vs. St. Louis (10/20/13), Smith reached 800 career receptions, becoming the 29th player in NFL history to reach the milestone.

Smith continues to move up the NFL's all-time receiving charts. He ranks 23rd in career receiving yards and tied for 26th in career receptions. Smith needs three yards to pass Michael Irvin (11,904 yards, 1988-99) for 22nd on the NFL's all-time receiving yards list.

Newton's dual-threat abilities were on display in Week Six at Minnesota (10/13/13) as he threw three touchdown passes and rushed for another. Since entering the NFL in 2011, Newton has three games with at least three passing touchdowns and a rushing TD. He joins Daunte Culpepper as the only players in the Super Bowl era to have three such games in their first three seasons.

Quarterback Cam Newton scored a rushing touchdown and three passing touchdowns at Minnesota (10/13/13), the third such game of his career.

NEWTON MOVES UP PASSING YARDS LIST

With 223 passing yards in Week Three vs. the New York Giants (9/22/13), quarterback Cam Newton passed Kerry Collins (8,306 yards from 1995-98) for third-most in Panthers history.

OLSEN PRODUCES TOP SEASON

Through nine games, tight end Greg Olsen is the Panthers second-leading receiver with 440 yards and 35 catches. He has also added three touchdowns, tied for the team lead.

Last year, Olsen produced the best season by a tight end in Panthers history in terms of receptions and receiving yards. Olsen produced career-highs with 69 catches and 843 receiving yards, surpassing the previous Panthers tight end records held by Wesley Walls (63 receptions for 822 yards) in 1999. Olsen's team-leading five touchdown catches tied for the fourth-highest output by a tight end in Panthers history.

Since entering the NFL in 2007, Olsen ranks among the top 10 players at his position in receptions (ninth – 343), receiving yards (ninth – 3,804) and receiving touchdowns (eighth – 33).

2012 marked Olsen's fourth season in the past five years with at least 500 yards receiving and was his third 50-catch season.

Versus Denver (11/11/12), Olsen produced his best game catching the football since joining the Panthers in 2011. Against the Broncos, Olsen made a career-high nine catches for 102-yards and two touchdowns. Olsen's performance was the first 100-yard game by a Panthers tight end since Walls had 102 yards vs. Seattle (10/8/00) and tied for the third-highest yardage output by a tight end in team history.

Versus Denver (11/11/12), tight end Greg Olsen produced the first 100-yard receiving game by a Panthers tight end since Wesley Walls in 2000.

OLSEN A CONSISTENT PRESENCE

Tight end Greg Olsen has been a consistent presence in NFL line-ups since his rookie year in 2007. Olsen has played in 103 consecutive games, the third-longest streak among active tight ends behind Dallas's Jason Witten (165) and Atlanta's Tony Gonzalez (111). San Francisco's Vernon Davis ranked just behind Olsen with 93 consecutive games played prior to missing the 49ers' game in Week Three.

A first-round choice (31st overall) by Chicago in 2007, Olsen missed the first two games of that season with a knee injury sustained in the preseason. He made his NFL debut vs. Dallas (9/23/07) and has not missed a game since.

GINN MAKING AN IMPACT ON OFFENSE

Ted Ginn, Jr.

Panthers wide receiver Ted Ginn, Jr. has made his name in the NFL for his special teams abilities, but he has contributed on offense for the Panthers in 2013.

Ginn has 23 catches for 386 yards this season. The 386 yards mark his highest receiving total since 2009 when he had 454 with the Miami Dolphins.

In Weeks Two and Three, Ginn showed the big play ability he can bring to the offensive side of the ball.

Ginn has touchdown catches of 40 and 47 yards this season. The two total touchdowns tie his career high established in 2007 and 2008, his first two seasons in the NFL.

In Week Two vs. Buffalo (9/15/13) Ginn's 40-yard touchdown catch was his first since the 2010 season finale when he hauled in a 37-yard score vs. Arizona (1/2/11) as a member of the San Francisco 49ers.

His 47-yard touchdown catch from Newton in Week Three vs. the New York Giants (9/22/13), was the second-longest of his career behind a 53-yard touchdown catch vs. the New York Jets (10/12/09).

In Week Eight at Tampa Bay (10/24/13), Ginn had 80 yards on five catches. The 80 yards are the fifth-highest total of his career and his highest output since he had 82 yards vs. Houston (12/27/09).

PANTHERS DEFENSE NEAR THE TOP

After finishing last season ranked in the top 10 for the first time since 2009, the Panthers defense has continued their strong play in 2013, ranking second in the NFL in yards allowed (283.3 yards per game) and second in scoring defense (12.8 points per game).

The last time Panthers ranked in top two in total defense was the end of 2002 season.

STRONG DEFENSE VS. SAN FRANCISCO

One of the Panthers top defensive performances came in Week Ten at San Francisco (11/10/13).

The Panthers limited the 49ers to nine points and 151 total net yards as the 49ers had only one drive of longer than 17 yards in the game. The 49ers entered the game on a five-game winning streak, scoring 31 or more points in each of hose victories.

In the second half, the Panthers shutout San Francisco and held the team to 45 total net yards.

49ers quarterback Colin Kaepernick was pressured by the Panthers defense as he was sacked a career-high six times. The 49ers threw for 46 net passing yards, the second-fewest allowed in Panthers history.

PANTHERS PITCH A SHUTOUT

With a 38-0 victory in Week Three vs. the New York Giants (9/22/13), the Carolina Panthers tallied the sixth shutout victory in team history and first since a 34-0 victory vs. Kansas City (10/5/08).

Vs. the Giants, the Panthers tied a team record with seven sacks, registered three turnovers and held New York to 150 total net yards. The Panthers are the first team in over a decade to post a shutout victory of 38 points or more, record at least seven sacks and three turnovers, and hold an opponent to 150 total net yards in a game. The last club to accomplish the feat was the Atlanta Falcons against Carolina on November 24, 2002.

YOUNG GUNS

The Panthers second-ranked defense has gotten a number of contributions from young players this season. On several plays this season, the Panthers have had four or five rookies on the field at the same time.

Contributions have come from the Panthers draft choices, defensive tackles Star Lotulelei and Kawann Short and linebacker A.J. Klein, as well as undrafted players, safety Robert Lester, cornerback Melvin White and defensive end Wes Horton.

Lotulelei has started all nine games and tallied 25 tackles and one sack. Short has seen action in every game this season, making 17 tackles, 1.5 sacks, 11 quarterback pressures and recovering a fumble.

In his first eight games, Klein saw the majority of his playing time on special teams, but made his first start of the season in Week Ten at San Francisco (11/10/13) as Chase Blackburn was limited with a foot injury. Klein responded with a career-high six tackles, including his first career sack.

Lester and White have made an impact in the secondary. Lester, a three-time national champion at the University of Alabama, has started two games at safety and accounted for three takeaways. White has started three consecutive games since entering the lineup in Week Eight at Tampa Bay (10/24/13). White has 16 tackles, one forced fumble, a pass defensed and one interception on the year.

Horton has been a part of the defensive line rotation, seeing action in five games and notching two tackles and a pressure.

DEFENSE STANDS STRONG IN RED ZONE

The Panthers defense has been effective against teams in the red zone through nine games in 2013, ranking third in the NFL in red zone defense. The Panthers have allowed seven touchdowns in 19 red zone possessions, a 36.8 percent touchdown percentage.

OPPONENT RED ZONE TOUCHDOWN PERCENTAGE, 2013

Kansas City	23.1	13	3
Baltimore	33.3	24	8
Carolina	36.8	19	7
Detroit	41.7	24	10
Seattle	41.7	24	10

The red zone defense in 2013 is a continuing trend from 2012 when Carolina tied for ninth in goal-to-go touchdown percentage.

TAKE IT TO THE HOUSE

Drayton Florence's 38-yard interception return for a touchdown in Week Nine vs. Atlanta (11/3/13) was the Panthers second defensive touchdown of the season.

This is the second consecutive season that the Panthers have had multiple defensive scores after tying a team record with three defensive scores in 2012. Prior to 2012, the last time the Panthers had multiple defensive scores was in 2007.

The Panthers have tallied the team-record three defensive scores six times (1995, 1996, 2003, 2004, 2005, 2012).

Cornerback Drayton Florence's interception return for a touchdown in Week Nine vs. Atlanta (11/3/13) was Carolina's second defensive score of the year. The team needs one more to tie the team record.

PICKED OFF

In 2013, the Panthers have intercepted opposing quarterbacks 13 times in 305 pass attempts faced. The team's 4.26 interception percentage is the top mark in the NFL.

Safety Mike Mitchell and linebacker Luke Kuechly lead the Panthers with three interceptions on the year while cornerback Drayton Florence and undrafted rookie safety Robert Lester have two. Linebacker Thomas Davis and cornerbacks Melvin White and Captain Munnerlyn have one interception each. Munnerlyn's interception was returned 45 yards for a touchdown in Week Seven vs. St. Louis (10/20/13). Florence's first interception was returned 38 yards for a touchdown in Week Nine vs. Atlanta (11/3/13).

MUNNERLYN TIES INTERCEPTION RECORD

With a 45-yard interception return for a touchdown on the first play from scrimmage in Week Seven vs. St. Louis (10/20/13), cornerback Captain Munnerlyn tied Mike Minter (4 from 1997-2006) for the most interception returns for touchdowns in Panthers history. Munnerlyn's score came 21 seconds into the game, making it the second-fastest touchdown in Panthers history. The fastest touchdown in team history came on a Steve Smith kickoff return touchdown 17 seconds into the game at Minnesota (9/9/01).

Last season, Munnerlyn returned two interceptions for touchdowns, joining Eric Davis (2 in 1998) and Mike Minter (2 in 2003) as the only players in team history to have multiple interception returns for touchdowns in a single season.

Cornerback Captain Munnerlyn's interception return for a touchdown vs. St. Louis (10/20/13) was his team-record-tying fourth interception return for a touchdown.

MITCHELL MAKING AN IMPACT

Safety Mike Mitchell joined the Panthers in the offseason after spending the first four years of his career with the Oakland Raiders. With the Panthers, Mitchell has started seven of eight games played and is tied for the team lead with three interceptions. He has added 2.5 sacks and two forced fumbles. He is the only player in the NFL with 3+ interceptions (3), 2+ sacks (2.5) & 2+ forced fumbles (2)

Mitchell established a new career high with two interceptions of quarterback Matt Cassel as the Panthers earned a 35-10 victory over Minnesota in Week Six (10/13/13).

Mitchell's three interceptions this season surpass his total of two in his four seasons with the Oakland Raiders (2009-12). He has started seven games this season for the Panthers third-ranked defense after starting nine games in the previous four years.

PANTHERS TIE SACK RECORD

In Week Three vs. the New York Giants (9/22/13), the Panthers sacked quarterback Eli Manning seven times, tying the team record for sacks in a game.

Greg Hardy (career-high 3.0 sacks), Thomas Davis (1.0), Charles Johnson (1.0), Star Lotulelei (1.0) and Kawann Short (1.0) victimized Manning as the Panthers tallied seven sacks for the second time in as many seasons. The team last recorded seven sacks at Atlanta (9/30/12).

The Panthers have recorded seven sacks against an opponent seven times.

DAVIS EARNS PLAYER OF THE WEEK

Linebacker Thomas Davis was named NFC Defensive Player of the Week for Week Six after his performance at Minnesota (10/13/13).

Davis, who has come back from three ACL surgeries, had a game-high 10 tackles, a career-best two sacks and a pass defensed in the Panthers' 35-10 win at Minnesota. One of the team's defensive captains, Davis led a unit that limited the Vikings to 10 points, 18.8 points below Minnesota's average (28.8 entering the game). The Panthers held the Vikings to 75 rushing yards and 290 total net yards. Minnesota entered the game averaging 126.8 rushing yards per game and 350.5 total net yards per game.

In his ninth year from Georgia, this is Davis' first career Player of the Week Award. Davis is the sixth linebacker in franchise history to be named Defensive Player of the Week. He joins Sam Mills (Week 7, 1995), Kevin Greene (Week 9, 1999), Dan Morgan (Week 14, 2004), Jon Beason (Week 16, 2009) and Luke Kuechly (Week 14, 2012).

Thomas Davis earned his first career Player of the Week award for his performance at Minnesota (10/13/13).

DAVIS PERFORMING AT HIGH LEVEL

Linebacker Thomas Davis is the Panthers second-leading tacl;er with 83 tackles in 2013. He has added one interception, one forced fumble and three sacks – his highest total since 2008. At his current pace, Davis would finish the season with a career-high 147 tackles.

He earned NFC Player of the Week honors as he helped the Panthers to a 35-10 victory over the Minnesota Vikings in Week Six (10/13/13). He tallied 10 tackles and a career-high 2.0 sacks. The game marked Davis's first multi-sack performance since 2006 when Davis had 1.5 at St. Louis (11/19/06).

Davis, a defensive captain, has been performing at a high level since his return from three surgical reconstructions of the anterior cruciate ligament in his right knee. The surgeries forced him to miss much of the 2009, 2010 and 2011 seasons before returning to play in 15 games with 12 starts in 2012. Davis is the first known NFL player to return to action following three ACL surgeries on the same knee.

Davis has made 21 consecutive starts beginning in Week Five of 2012 vs. Seattle (10/7/12). During that time, Davis is averaging 9.19 tackles per game (193 tackles). He has nine double-digit tackle games in that span.

With a season-high 14 tackles vs. Seattle (9/8/13) in Week One, Davis moved into third place on the Panthers all-time tackles list, surpassing Chris Gamble's 558 tackles from 2004-12.

Davis has started all nine games in 2013 and his 83 tackles this season, give him 634 for his career.

PANTHERS CAREER LEADERS, TACKLES

Player	Tackles	Seasons
Mike Minter	953	1997-2006
Jon Beason	701	2007-13
Thomas Davis	634	2005-13
Chris Gamble	558	2004-12

Panthers linebacker Thomas Davis has 634 tackles, the third-most in Panthers history, despite missing most of the 2009, 2010 and 2011 seasons due to three reconstructive knee surgeries.

WHAT THEY'RE SAYING ABOUT KUECHLY

Praise for second-year linebacker Luke Kuechly has come from his coaches, teammates and members of the media this season.

Panthers head coach Ron Rivera:
I really do believe he has an opportunity to be one of the really good ones. He has to stay healthy first and foremost and continue to develop as a linebacker. There's a lot of things that we do in our defense that give opportunities to our linebackers to make plays and a lot of it starts up front. If you ask Luke about it, he'll talk about his front four that are in front of him, and the two linebackers next to him and the safeties behind him. He's a very humble young man, so I'll do it for him and tell you that he has an opportunity to ascend. And if he continues to grow, we'll most certainly be talking about him in the same way as those great linebackers.

Panthers quarterback Cam Newton:
I've always been a huge fan of Luke [Kuechly]. I know what a competitor he is and how hard he works. He's only reached the tip of the iceberg.

Jon Gruden, former NFL coach and current Monday Night Football analyst:
Kuechly's a (beast), isn't he? You lose (Brian) Urlacher. You lose Ray Lewis. Someone's got to take the torch. He's got the torch. I saw him on film…He's really something. You loved him coming out of Boston College. You can't put the projector down and take three or four steps without saying, "Who the heck is that guy?"

Doug Farrar, Sports Illustrated NFL writer:
When [Kuechly]'s on, he's nearly unstoppable. He's the best of the league's new wave of 360-degree linebackers — just as adept in coverage as he is running opponents down in space.

Mike Mayock, former NFL player and current NFL Network analyst:
What usually knocks inside linebackers down is their inability to stay on the field for three plays. I think he's the best pure zone drop pass linebacker I've ever seen on tape.

Brian Billick, former NFL coach and current FOX Sports analyst:
In my opinion, he is the best cover linebacker in the entire NFL, and that diversity makes him an invaluable asset.

Matt Williamson, former NFL scout and current ESPN.com writer:
Luke Kuechly, last year's defensive rookie of the year, has already emerged as one of the league's truly elite linebackers and this is his 4-3 defense. Comparisons to greats such as Patrick Willis and Ray Lewis are not too far-fetched in terms of expectations for Kuechly's career, as he simply excels in all areas of playing the position. Kuechly is a great blitzer, rarely takes a false first step to the ball and is a tremendous tackler.

KUECHLY IS MAN IN THE MIDDLE

Luke Kuechly

Second-year player Luke Kuechly has been the Panthers starting middle linebacker for 23 weeks, taking over the position in Week Five of 2012. During that time period, the Panthers defense ranks second in the NFL in total defense (300.2 yards per game), second in rushing defense (93.3) and fourth in passing defense (206.9). That is a marked improvement from the defense's standings over the 23-week period prior to Kuechly's move to the middle (Week 16 of 2010 to Week Four of 2012) as the Panthers ranked 27th in total defense (380.8), 24th in rushing defense (129.4) and 26th in passing defense (251.4).

PANTHERS DEFENSIVE RANKINGS
Week 16, 2010 through Week 4, 2012:

	Rank	Avg.
Yds/Game	27th	380.8
Rush Yds/Game	24th	129.4
Pass Yds/Game	26th	251.4

Since Week 5, 2012 (Kuechly at MLB):

	Rank	Avg.	Change
Yds/Game	2nd	300.2	-80.6
Rush Yds/Game	2nd	93.3	-36.1
Pass Yds/Game	4th	206.9	-44.5

Since moving to the middle, Kuechly has been on the field for nearly every play for the Panthers defense, playing in 1,298 of a possible 1,320 snaps (98.3%), only coming off the field for the final five snaps of the team's 38-0 victory over the New York Giants in Week Three (9/22/13), the final 12 snaps of the team's 35-10 victory over the Minnesota Vikings in Week Six (10/13/13) and five snaps in 34-10 win over the Atlanta Falcons in Week Nine (11/3/13).

Kuechly played all 769 of the Panthers defensive snaps in the final 12 games of the 2012 season and has seen action in 529 of the Panthers 551 defensive snaps in 2013.

In 21 career games in the middle, Kuechly had averaged 12.5 tackles per game (263), recorded two sacks, five interceptions, six passes defensed and three fumble recoveries (based on coaches' film review).

In 2012, Kuechly's first game in the middle came vs. Seattle in Week Five (10/7/12). After ranking 24th in the NFL in total defense after four weeks, the Panthers improved to 10th by the end of the season with Kuechly in the middle. The Carolina defense finished in the top 10 for the first time since 2009.

TACKLING MACHINE

In 2012, linebacker Luke Kuechly earned Defensive Rookie of the Year honors after tallying a league-leading 164 tackles (based on press box statistics) to become the first rookie since San Francisco's Patrick Willis in 2007 to lead the NFL in tackles.

Since entering the NFL in 2012, press box crews have credited Kuechly with 239 tackles, the most in the NFL.

*2012 Pro Bowl selection

Using tackle totals from coaches' film review, Kuechly tallied a franchise-record 205 tackles in 2012 and has continued to rack up tackles in 2013. Through nine games, he leads the team with 90 tackles. He has also snared three interceptions this season.

Linebacker Luke Kuechly has 228 tackles since 2012 (according to press box stats), the most in the NFL during that time.

LOTULELEI PROVIDING EARLY RETURNS

Star Lotulelei

Panthers defensive tackle Star Lotulelei, the 14th overall pick in the 2013 NFL Draft, has been impressive in the early part of the 2013 season.

Lotulelei has started all nine games for a Panthers defense that ranks second in the NFL against the run. Lotulelei has produced 25 tackles, including one sack, and seven quarterback pressures.

His first career sack came in Week Three vs. the New York Giants (9/22/13) as the Panthers tied a team record with seven sacks and shutout the Giants 38-0, the Panthers first shutout victory since 2008.

Loutlelei played three seasons at Utah after playing one year at Snow College, a junior college in Ephraim, Utah. In his senior season, Lotulelei talled five sacks and ranked second in the nation with four fumble recoveries to go along with three forced fumbles as he became one of three defensive lineman in Utah history to earn All-America honors.

WHAT THEY'RE SAYING ABOUT STAR

Praise for rookie defensive tackle Star Lotulelei has come from his coaches, teammates and members of the media this season.

Panthers defensive end Greg Hardy:
He's not a star; He's a superstar. And this superstar is a beast. I see some crazy things for his future. When and if he does keep developing, he's going to be unstoppable.

Kevin Weidl, ESPN.com / Scouts, Inc.:
The Panthers have received a strong early return for Lotulelei...[He] has made his presence felt on the interior. Lotulelei has been stout defending the run and has created disruption in the backfield while also showing impressive range.

Panthers head coach Ron Rivera:
He's a young guy that's learning to be a pro and learning very quickly. And he's taking it upon himself to get it done. That's the beautiful nature of who he is.

He may not have as many sacks, but how many times did he take on a double-team? How many times did he absorb it, and all of a sudden Luke [Kuechly] or Thomas Davis is in the crease making the tackle? The thing that I really like about him is his first explosive step. If he gets vertical into the crease and penetrates, he's going to be disruptive and make the play. If he doesn't make the play, he's going to allow Luke to make it or Thomas or our safeties coming down in the box.

Matt Williamson, former NFL scout and current ESPN.com writer:
The Panthers could have back-to-back defensive rookies of the year, as Star Lotulelei is playing as well as any rookie in the league on that side of the ball. Lotulelei is a big, powerful player who frees up everyone around him but also shows penetration skills.

HARDY WINS PLAYER OF THE WEEK

Defensive end Greg Hardy was named NFC Defensive Player of the Week for Week Three after his performance vs. the New York Giants (9/22/13).

Hardy tied a career high with three sacks in the Panthers' 38-0 win over the New York Giants, the team's first shutout since 2008. Carolina tied a the single-game club record with seven sacks. Hardy previously recorded 3.0 sacks at Chicago (10/28/12).

Hardy also had a team-high eight tackles. Five of his eight tackles (including three sacks) were behind the line of scrimmage for a total of minus-22 yards.

In his fourth year from Ole Miss, this is Hardy's first career Player of the Week Award. He is the first Panthers defensive end to be honored since Julius Peppers (Week 8, 2009). Hardy joins Peppers (three) and Mike Rucker (two) as the only defensive ends in franchise history to be named Defensive Player of the Week.

Defensive end Greg Hardy was named NFC Defensive Player of the Week for his three-sack performance vs. the New York Giants (9/22/13).

HARDY PART OF SELECT GROUP

Greg Hardy

Defensive end Greg Hardy produced a career-high 11.0 sacks in 2012 to become just the sixth player in Panthers history to post a double-digit sack season, joining Kevin Greene, Lamar Lathon, Julius Peppers, Mike Rucker and Charles Johnson.

PANTHERS WITH 10+ SACKS IN A SEASON

Player	Years with 10+ sacks
Kevin Greene	1996 (14.5); 1998 (15); 1999 (12)
Lamar Lathon	1996 (13.5)
Julius Peppers	2002 (12); 2004 (11); 2005 (10.5); 2006 (13); 2008 (14.5); 2009 (10.5)
Mike Rucker	2002 (10); 2003 (12)
Charles Johnson	2010 (11.5); 2012 (12.5)
Greg Hardy	2012 (11.0)

Hardy can distinguish himself even more by reaching double-digit sacks again in 2013. Hardy ranks second on the team this season with five sacks and needs five more sacks this season to become the fifth player in Panthers history to record multiple seasons of 10 or more sacks.

PRESSURE RISING

One season after ranking ninth in the NFL in sacks per pass play (6.57%), the Panthers have kept the pressure up on opposing quarterbacks as the team is fifth in sacks per pass play in 2013. The Panthers have sacked opponents 29 times in 334 passing plays (8.68%).

SACK ARTISTS

Defensive ends Charles Johnson and Greg Hardy have become one of the best pass rushing duos in the NFL in recent years. This season, Johnson (8.5) and Hardy (5.0) are first and second in sacks for the Panthers.

In 2012, Johnson (12.5) and Hardy (11.0) became the first pair of Panthers with double-digit sacks since 2002 and made the Panthers one of five teams in the NFL with two players that had at least 10 sacks, joining Cincinnati, Dallas, Denver and St. Louis.

TEAMS WITH TWO PLAYERS WITH 10 OR MORE SACKS IN 2012

Team	Players (Sacks)
Denver	Von Miller (18.5) & Elvis Dumervil (11.0)
Cincinnati	Geno Atkins (12.5) & Michael Johnson (11.5)
Carolina	Charles Johnson (12.5) & Greg Hardy (11.0)
Dallas	DeMarcus Ware (11.5) & Anthony Spencer (11.0)
St. Louis	Chris Long (11.5) & Robert Quinn (10.5)

Defensive ends Greg Hardy and Charles Johnson teamed up to provide 23.5 sacks in 2012 as both had double-digit sack totals.

KNOCK IT LOOSE

Defensive end Charles Johnson made an impact in Week One of the 2013 regular season vs. Seattle (9/8/13), when he made a strip-sack of quarterback Russell Wilson with the Seahawks threatening to score inside the Panthers 15-yard line.

Johnson's forced fumble vs. Seattle was the 14th of his career, tying him with Mike Rucker (1999-2007) for third place in team history. Johnson needs two more foced fumbles this season to tie Mike Minter (16, 1997-2006) for the second-most in team history.

PANTHERS CAREER LEADERS, FORCED FUMBLES

Player	FF	Seasons
Julius Peppers	29	2002-09
Mike Minter	16	1997-2006
Charles Johnson	14	2007-13
Mike Rucker	14	1999-2007

Johnson showed a knack for getting the ball loose last season. In addition to his 12.5 sacks, Johnson also finished second in the NFL with seven forced fumbles.

The seven forced fumbles tied for second-most in Panthers history (Mark Fields, 2002) behind the eight by Chris Harris in 2007.

JOHNSON JOINS PANTHERS SACK LEADERS

Charles Johnson

With 1.5 sacks of quarterback Colin Kaepernick in Week Ten at San Francisco (11/10/13), Charles Johnson pushed his season total to 8.5, second-most in the NFC and tied for seventh in the NFL. He has 21 sacks in his past 22 games.

With one more half-sack, Johnson can become the first player in franchise history to record at least nine sacks in four consecutive years.

Johnson has 51.5 career sacks, third-most in Panthers history. He has been the Panthers leader in sacks in each of the last four seasons (2009-12) and has produced 38 sacks in his past 47 games.

Since becoming a full-time starter in 2010, Johnson's 41.5 sacks are sixth in the NFL.

PANTHERS CAREER SACK LEADERS

Player	Sacks	Seasons
Julius Peppers	81.0	2002-09
Mike Rucker	55.5	1999-2007
Charles Johnson	51.5	2007-13
Kevin Greene	41.5	1996, 1998-99

Johnson is just the fourth player in team history with multiple double-digit sack seasons (Kevin Greene, Julius Peppers, Mike Rucker).

PANTHERS WITH 10+ SACKS IN MULTIPLE SEASONS

Player	Years with 10+ sacks
Kevin Greene	1996 (14.5); 1998 (15); 1999 (12.0)
Julius Peppers	2002 (12.0); 2004 (11.0); 2005 (10.5); 2006 (13.0); 2008 (14.5); 2009 (10.5)
Mike Rucker	2002 (10.0); 2003 (12.0)
Charles Johnson	2010 (11.5); 2012 (12.5)

Defensive end Charles Johnson has 8.5 sacks this season, second in the NFC.

GOOD RETURNS FROM GINN

This season, Ted Ginn, Jr. ranks ninth in punt return average (11.0) and 12th in kickoff return average (24.2). While it is still early in the season, Ginn has a chance to be one of the best for the Panthers. The last time the Panthers had a kickoff returner finish the season in the top 10 was in 2001 when Steve Smith finished second with a 25.6-yard average. The last Panthers punt returner to rank in the top 10 was Mark Jones in 2008 who finished seventh with an 11.4-yard average.

Since entering the NFL in 2007, Ginn's 7,335 combined kick return yards stand fourth in the NFL. He has returned six of those kicks for touchdowns.

GANO GETTING HIS KICKS

Kicker Graham Gano has converted 13 of 14 field goal attempts and all 25 PAT tries. Gano has converted all five of his field goal attempts from 50+ yards, establishing a franchise record for most 50-yard field goals made in a season. Gano's 55-yard field goal vs. the Atlanta Falcons (11/03/13) tied John Kasay's field goal vs. San Francisco (10/24/10) for the second-longest in team history.
